Three is the magic number

Known for its generously-sized tapas, as well as excellent cocktails and desserts, Cuca Restaurant is a veritable oasis in Jimbaran. Its concept of three separate dining areas, consisting of the theatre-like food bar where patrons can enjoy interacting with the kitchen staff, the more traditional dining room – complete with floating curtains for those who prefer their privacy – and the garden lounge and cocktail bar, where the mood is easy and the sofas cushy, Cuca deserves a spot on your list of the island's top hangouts.

Not one to rest on his laurels, however, chef Kevin Cherkas has added three items to this charming venue's menu. From December 15, you can first taste his Meat & Potatoes – a smoky ragout of flavoursome beef rib meat, red wine, onions and mushrooms, served with lightly whipped mashed potatoes. The second dish is the mouthwatering Baked Scallops, boasting hints of cauliflower, pickled zucchini, herbs and butter. The third is decidedly more festive, the Grandma's Chicken Meatballs, with its crispy sweet potatoes and tamarillo jam. Jl Yoga Perkanthi, Jimbaran. Tel 0361 708 066
