CUCA

Cuca opened a few months ago presenting as a casual dining restaurant offering contemporary and international tapas along with an enticing range of deserts. Food quality and presentation, an appealing setting and service are all highlighted by the immaculate detail and style that accompanies every aspect of this restaurant's operation.

A food bar provides seated viewing of Cuca's chef and staff as they prepare their guest's orders. The dining area is tastefully appointed with the burnish of timbers blending with soft furnishings while maintaining a casual restaurant atmosphere. From the dining room, large windows look out to a delightful garden and its open air cocktail bar and garden lounge where aperitifs and evening sundowners can be enjoyed along with tasty tapas and delicious desserts. The restaurant is recognised for its innovative cocktails that include Ginger Tonic, Bali Mary, Moon-gria along with many more.

Cuca of course, uses the best and freshest of local products for their tantalizing range of dishes but it is Chef Kevin who manages to turn local ingredients into the exquisite art form of his dish presentations that evoke the appreciation of taste buds. Among the many dishes of note is the 'emperor ceviche' served with watermelon ice, toasted pumpkin seed and basil.

Desserts here offer an adventure and it is the playful Bali Breakfast, made up of sweet pureed mango, frozen passion fruit and whipped coconut took my fancy here. Cuca offers a trip into casual dining with an almost erotic explosion of tastes. Their mission statement, "A casual sharing experience all about taste", is certainly no myth.
